

USA Mobility embraces resource sustainability and environmental restoration as key methods for value creation. Our wireless and software solutions help our clients develop paperless processes that eliminate waste and create value for the economy and the environment.

» Reduce

We can make a difference by making educated, actionable choices! In line with USA Mobility's commitment to reduce the use of paper, management and employees utilize electronic and online methods to store and distribute documents. USA Mobility provides GREEN solutions for mission critical communications through wireless messaging and Amcom software solutions such as iLand Messaging Centers and Amcom Consoles. Every day, our wireless and software solutions consultants assist clients in identifying opportunities to replace inefficient, manual processes with seamless, sustainable digital information transfer. In addition, we provide tools to assist customers and partners with their sustainability efforts, such as electronic billing, and the ability to download or view information using systems such as MyAccount.

» Reuse

USA Mobility subscribers regularly return equipment to us when they change devices. Instead of sending it to a landfill, we refurbish the hardware and place the same units back into circulation. We're continuously looking for opportunities to eliminate waste and replace inefficiency with sustainable processes. For example, we utilize a tape/disk rotation method to reuse temporary storage media for the backup and retention of critical data. These re-use processes add value to the company and are environmentally friendly business practices that reduce waste and pollution.

» Recycle

Many departments at USA Mobility, including Facilities, Information Technology, Purchasing and Distribution are making great strides in pursuit of Green Goals. These efforts include replacing cleaning and maintenance products with ones that are environmentally friendly, implementing recycling programs, conserving energy resources and utilizing recycled office products. When ordering products other than office supplies, employees are expected to select ones made from recycled materials. All of our employees are expected to take advantage of local recycling programs, and we maintain recycling systems in office locations where items are set aside as they are used, to be sent to a recycling center. We encourage our employees to conserve energy and natural resources by turning off lights and equipment when not in use, and using low energy settings. All staff are encouraged to suggest additional ways to conserve energy in their office and work locations.

USA Mobility is committed to the conservation of our natural resources and the protection of our environment. Our ongoing initiatives reflect our continuing commitment to sustainable practices. We encourage everyone to protect our planet!
